PCBS

Pacific Coast Banking School

The Premier National Graduate School of Banking™

2017 Resident Session
August 20 – September 1

The Big Picture

Our three-year resident program consists of three two-week resident sessions covering in-depth analysis of critical financial and economic topics, practical management tools and strategies, and integrated application of leadership skills, management of risk, and financial performance. Most core courses have a related extension assignment to be completed between resident sessions.

Program Details

- YEAR ONE: Delve into dynamic leadership skills and in-depth analysis of critical financial and economic topics including credit risk and financial performance management.
- YEAR TWO: Develop practical management tools and strategies in leadership, risk management, and financial performance. A broad range of elective courses are offered in addition to the core courses.
- YEAR THREE: Apply and integrate learned leadership skills with credit and financial performance principles through our Bank Management and Leadership simulations. Students choose four electives in addition to the simulation experience.

First-class Instructors

Learn from the best. Our faculty of more than 50 instructors includes nationally recognized leaders in the banking industry, acclaimed consultants, and highly regarded university professors.

Live the Dream

Study and stay at the beautiful University of Washington in Seattle, which is situated on 660 acres of park-like grounds overlooking gorgeous Lake Washington and Mt. Rainier. Enjoy breathtaking hikes, golfing, sailing, and world-class shopping during your time off.

We're Here to Help

Applicants must have five years of banking or related experience, as well as an academic understanding of corporate finance, accounting, and economics. We offer webinars to help you qualify academically.
